A BILL

To support the aspirations of the Tibetan people to safeguard their distinct identity.

1       Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2       tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3       SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4       This Act may be cited as “Tibetan Policy Act of 5       2001”.

6       SEC. 2. STATEMENT OF PURPOSE.

7       The purpose of this Act is to support the aspirations
8       of the Tibetan people to safeguard their distinct identity.

1 SEC. 3. FINDINGS.

2 Congress makes the following findings:

3 (1) The People's Republic of China has failed
4 to respond to efforts by the United States and oth-
5 ers to initiate a dialogue between the Chinese leader-
6 ship and the Dalai Lama or his representatives lead-7 ing to a mutually beneficial negotiated solution with 8 respect to Tibet.

9 (2) Tibet has maintained throughout its history
10 a national identity distinct from that of China.

11 (3) On October 1, 1949, the People's Republic
12 of China was formally proclaimed in Beijing and the 13 following year launched an armed invasion of Tibet.

14 (4) Under the 1951 Seventeen Point Agreement
15 negotiated between the People's Republic of China
16 and representatives of the Tibetan Government,
17 which incorporated Tibet into China, China guaran-18 teed no alteration of Tibetan political, cultural, and 19 religious systems and institutions.

20 (5) The failure of the People's Republic of 21 China to adhere to or uphold the Seventeen Point
22 Agreement, and the imposition of so-called demo-23 cratic reform, led to the March 1959 uprising in 24 Lhasa and the Dalai Lama's repudiation of the Sev-
25 enteen Point Agreement and flight to exile.

1           (6) Since the revolt against Chinese rule in 2           Tibet that began in 1956 and through the end of the 3           Cultural Revolution in 1976, an estimated 1,200,000
4           Tibetans were killed and more than 6,000 religious 5           sites were destroyed.

6           (7) In 1959, 1960, 1964, and 1997 the Inter-
7           national Commission of Jurists examined Chinese
8           policy in Tibet, violations of human rights in Tibet,
9           and the position of Tibet in international law.

10          (8) The International Commission of Jurists
11          found that the People's Republic of China had com-
12          mitted "acts of genocide . . . in Tibet in an attempt 13          to destroy the Tibetans as a religious group" and 14          that Tibet was at least "a de facto state" prior to 15          1951.

16          (9) The United Nations General Assembly
17          adopted resolutions in 1959, 1961, and 1965 calling
18          on the People's Republic of China to ensure respect
19          for fundamental human rights of the Tibetan people
20          and for their distinctive cultural and religious life, 21          and to cease practices which deprive the Tibetan 22          people of their fundamental rights and freedoms, in-23          cluding the right to self-determination.

24          (10) The 2000 Department of State Country
25          Report on Human Rights Practices finds that "Chi-

1 nese government authorities continued to commit
2 numerous serious human rights abuses in Tibet, in-3 cluding instances of torture, arbitrary arrest, deten-4 tion without public trial, and lengthy detention of 5 Tibetan nationalists for peacefully expressing their 6 political or religious views, and tight controls on reli-
7 gion and on other fundamental freedoms continued
8 and intensified during the year”.

9 (11) Human rights, religious freedom, and the 10 preservation of Tibet’s distinct religious, cultural, 11 and linguistic identity are legitimate interests of the 12 international community.

13 (12) It is the policy of the United States to pro-
14 mote the elimination of all forms of racial, religious,
15 and linguistic discrimination against the Tibetan 16 people.

17 (13) Voice of America and Radio Free Asia Ti-
18 betan language broadcast programs provide informa-
19 tion to the Tibetan people withheld from them by 20 the Government of the People’s Republic of China 21 and, thus, a critical service in protecting the distinct 22 Tibetan identity and promoting freedoms in Tibet.

23 (14) The Government of the People’s Republic
24 of China, through direct and indirect incentives, has

1 encouraged an overwhelming number of Chinese to 2 resettle in Tibet.

3 (15) The Government of the People's Republic
4 of China has excluded Tibetans from participation in 5 important policy decisions and meaningful participa-
6 tion in the governance of Tibet, and has failed to 7 abide by its guarantees of autonomy for Tibet.

8 (16) The Guidelines for International Develop-
9 ment Projects and Sustainable Investment in Tibet 10 issued by the Central Tibetan Administration of His 11 Holiness the Dalai Lama establish a sound basis for 12 fostering responsible development and economic ac-
13 tivity in Tibet.

14 (17) As a result of the failure of the Govern-
15 ment of the People's Republic of China to grant gen-16 uine autonomy for Tibet and the preference it has 17 shown in its economic and human infrastructure de-
18 velopment efforts for Chinese in Tibet, Tibetans con-
19 tinue to remain plagued by poverty, illiteracy, poor 20 nutrition, and their prosperity is further hindered by 21 a limited infrastructure and communications net-
22 work that provides them only a marginal benefit.

23 (18) The People's Republic of China has rati-
24 fied the International Covenant on Economic, Social,
25 and Cultural Rights and is thereby bound by its pro-

1 visions and to international monitoring of its human 2 rights practices, and China has signed the Inter-3 national Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, and 4 Article One of each covenant states that all peoples
5 have the right of self-determination.

6 (19) President Jiang Zemin, in a press con-
7 ference with President Clinton on June 27, 1997, 8 and similarly on other occasions, has stated that if 9 the Dalai Lama “recognizes that Tibet is an insepa-10 rable part of China, then the door to negotiations is 11 open”.

12 (20) The Dalai Lama has specifically stated
13 that he is not seeking independence and is com-14 mitted to finding a negotiated solution within the 15 framework enunciated by Deng Xiaoping in 1979, 16 and in his statement on the “41st Anniversary of 17 the Tibetan National Uprising”, and similarly on 18 other occasions, has said that “it has been my con-
19 sistent endeavor to find a peaceful and mutually ac-
20 ceptable solution to the Tibetan problem . . . [m]y
21 approach envisages that Tibet enjoy genuine auton-
22 omy within the framework of the People’s Republic
23 of China . . . [s]uch a mutually beneficial solution
24 would contribute to the stability and unity of China, 25 their two most important priorities, while at the

1 same time the Tibetans would be ensured of their 2 basic right to preserve their own [c]ivilization and to 3 protect the delicate environment of the Tibetan pla-4 teau”.

5 SEC. 4. DECLARATIONS OF POLICY.

6 Congress—

7 (1) as stated in section 355 of the Foreign Re-8 lations Authorization Act, Fiscal Years 1992 and
