Methodology

Méthodology

This document presents the results of a study conducted by Ifop. It complies fully with the scientific and the deontological principles that are required to be followed when carrying out opinion surveys. The results that it reveals reflect opinion at the time the survey was carried out as opposed to predictions.

No material may be published – either in total or in part – without Ifop's express consent.

Study realized by Ifop for International Campaign for Tibet

The survey has been made from a sample of 5 996 people within the following countries :

Echantillon

France : 1 002 interviews
Germany : 997 interviews
Netherlands: 995 interviews
United Kingdom: 1 002 interviews
Italy : 1 000 interviews
USA: 1 001 interviews

Samples represent people in countries aged 18 and over.

Méthodologie

Quotas were used to ensure that the samples used were properly representative (sex, age, occupation of the interviewee/annual income for the USA) after stratification by town size & geographical area (France), by geographical area only (other countries).

Mode de recueil

The interviews were conducted using self-administered on-line questionnaires (CAWI - Computer Assisted Web Interviewing) :

France : from June 25 till July 2 2015
Germany : from June 29 till July 3 2015
Netherlands: from June 29 till July 2 2015
United Kingdom: from June 29 till July 2 2015
Italy : from June 25 till July 2 2015
USA: from June 25 till July 2 2015
