

SCHRUCKER FELLOWSHIP FOR THE ARTS

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

This fellowship is dedicated to supporting Tibetans working in the fields of contemporary art, creative writing, film and theater.

The Schrucker Fellowship will be administered by the International Campaign for Tibet, but grants will be funded and selected by an Advisory Board consisting of Schroeder and Pucker family members.

Theme

The Schrucker Fellowship prioritizes supporting Tibetans in the contemporary fields of visual arts, creative writing, theater and film.

Grant Amount

The total grant amount in 2024 will be $20,000. Projects can receive funding from $500 to $3,000.

Eligibility

Tibetans from any country are eligible to apply. Tibetans working for organizations may apply on behalf of the organization, provided that the applicant is central to the implementation of the project's work.

Non-Tibetans are ineligible for grants from this fellowship.

Applicants will be selected based on the merit of their work, and a demonstrated ability to deliver on stated goals. The fellowship aims to support applicants' effort to reach new levels in their career, and all are encouraged to apply with current needs and ideas, irrespective of their status as emerging, mid-career, or established in their field of work.

Please note that this fellowship is not applicable for conferences, workshops, exhibitions, and app development.

Application Details

Applications for the Schrucker Fellowship for the Arts will be accepted from September 1 through October 14 at 11:59pm EST. For more information on eligibility, application guidelines, and deadlines, contact schruckerfellowship@savetibet.org.
